

boys, whom he was instrumental in sending here gave a good account of their progress and showed by their healthy appearance that the climate of Oklahoma agrees with them.

Rev. Fr. Aloysius returned from Europe two weeks ago. We are pleased to see that his five months trip abroad benefited him. He has been assigned as Assistant to Rev. Fr. Isidore at St. Patrick's Mission, Anadarko.

Rev. Fr. Ildephonse O. S. B. sailed for France last week to visit his aged mother whom he had not seen during the past 14 years. His many appreciating friends in Kansas, Oklahoma and Indian Territories wish him a very pleasant voyage.

The College Students too wish him a Bon voyage and a safe return.

We are delighted to have Rev. Fr. Vincent once more in our midst. If his presence was so much enjoyed previous to his departure to the Apostolic Mission House, Washington, D. C. what may we not expect now after his year's sojourn among the brilliant minds of the University authorities.

He had not yet reached Sacred Heart before he was invited by many of the Reverend Clergy to go on the lecture platform in order to give the public a true view of the French situation.

His time from now on will be devoted to giving Missions in the dioceses of Dallas and San Antonio, viz: in Amarillo, Abilene, Kers and several other important centers not far from the City of St. Antonio.

We wish him every success and trust that the fruit of his labors will be in keeping with his great zeal for the salvation of souls.

A handsome set, in seven volumes, large octavo, of Bishop England's works, for the moderate price of $21.00, is now available;—or rather will be available if Catholic libraries, educational institutions, priests, and laymen promptly place their orders with Arthur H. Clark Co., Cleveland Ohio to whom the Buffalo Catholic Pub. Co has turned over the meritorious project of reprinting a very treasury of American Catholic literature,—the complete works of Dr. England Bishop of Charleston.
